DON TRACKSTERS ARE PROUD POSSESSORS OF ANOTHER SCALP

SWAMP RIVALS WITH SCORE OF 93-1-2

By Broomell (A Bachelor)

Another big scalp hangs at the belt of the Junior College Track team. The triangle meet with Chaffee was a neasy walk away for the home team, who amassed 93 1-2 points. Their nearest rival was Chaffee, who acquired 35 1-2 units; while Fullerton dragged in with but 16.

All but two of the first places came to Santa Ana. Decker, of Chaffee, won the two mile and his team mate, Frost took the low hurdles. It is probable that if Charley Webber had not been under the weather the low hurdles would have been a different story.

The high point men of the meet were Stewart Ritner, John Lutz and Everett Lutz of Santa Ana and Whistler of Chaffee.

Clayes won the 100 yard dash, but much to the disgust of the crowd, was ruled ineligible to compete in the meet. Since it was a meet between conference schools and Clayes is a five semester man. His time for the centruy was 10.1.

The results of the meet are as follows:

Mile Run: Vawter, (SA) First; Usher, (C) second, Weise (SA) third Shea, (F) fourth. Time 4 min. 46.5 sec.

100 yard dash: Ritner (SA) first, Strocheim (SA) second, Zuckerman Continued on page 4

Don's Theme Motif At Orange Dance

Dancing brought a merry group together last Friday night, March 5, at the first J. C. party directed by Miss Elaine Smith, new social chairman. The orchestra and dancing began at 9:00 o'clock sharp, and continued until the gong sounded the mid-night hour.

Two feature dances were successfully carried out—a cymbal dance, and a Dons favor dance. Little red and black combreros were well used for the favor dance.

The young people were chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Crozier Phillips, Miss Margaret Baker, and —Mr. T. H. Glenn. The party was well attended, and declared a complete success. We are now looking forward to the Women's Org. dance.

"Daddy, what did you do in the World War?"

"I polished the desk that was marred by spurs."

Dumb Dora: (reading sign over ticket office): "Oh! John, it says, Entire Balcony, 35 cents. Lets get it, so we'll be all alone."

At last a seal! The Junior College executive board has adopted a college seal featuring the Don idea. The first seal designed by Robert O'Brien and executed by Francis Knudson. It was decided by the board, however, that a mission should be included in the design and the seal which appears on the right was submitted and adopted by the board.

The seal will be used on the cover of the Algol and on other college publications. Stickers, seals, and pins will likely be adopted from this design.

Prof. Herbert L. Willetts' Lecture Well Received

JUNIOR COLLEGE HEARS NOTED LECTURER

Professor Herbert L. Willett, professor of biblical literature at the University of Chicago, gave a lecture before the student body at last Thursdays assembly. Professor Willett, who has been giving a series of lectures at the University of California, was secured by the faculty to speak before the J. C. students. The regular tri-weekly assembly which the faculty sponsors is beginning to be looked forward to, because the students sense that there will be something of great benefit to them at each of these.

Professor Willett was introduced by Mr. Hammond, who presided. Dr. Willett approached his subject by referring to the adventures of the Greeks in their search for "The Golden Fleece". He compared the adventures encountered in educating oneself to this Grecian myth. By the use of four words: Life, Light, Law, and Love, he gave his views on deucation. One of the points which Dr. Willett emphasized was that education is not the process of teaching one how to make a living, but teaching one how to live.

However, the free and natural manner in which Professor Willett delivered his address was the most impressive thing about him. His humor was original, entertaining, and enlightening. He seemed to have infinite knowledge, which he could use at any time he wished. Everyone who heard Dr. Willett had nothing but the highest praise to offer.

COLLEGE SOCIAL PROBLEMS DISCUSSED AT A. W. S. CONFAB

In answer to suggestions offered by many girls of the college, Mrs. Northcross last Wednesday during the sixth period talked to the women in E. M. Nealleys room. Her talk dwelt with the subject of what the Junior College boys think of the J. C. girls. Since she had spoken to the Y. W. C. A. on the exact reverse of that topic, she was remarkably well informed concerning her subject.

After the extraction of two persons in the form of Lyle Cook and John Winterbourne, who were hiding under the seats, Mrs. Northcross proceeded with her talk. It is a well known fact that college men they ever make them. Mrs. Northcross believes the reason to be partly the fault of the girls. The college women are too particular, she said in part, in what type of vehicle they are to be propelled in. She asked the girls if they were willing to ride in Fords. They responded unanimously in the affirmative. One girl said, "Yes anything but a strip down." Various other questions were dealt with by Mrs. Northcross. She repeated to the girls her opinion on "pairs" and approves of rotating dates rather than going with the same gentleman on all occasions.

After her talk the meeting gave way to a Women's Org meeting. Discussion of the dance to be held on March 19 was held. Arguments and speeches were rife on the question of the way in which to invite the male faction. Dates may be slated,

GRAHAM C. HUNTER TO SPEAK ON INTERNATIONAL GOODWILL

LOUAIN LEECH IS IN CHARGE TO-DAY

The Junior College assembly will be held at the regular hour on Wednesday, March 10. The Board of Control has adopted a new policy of having assemblies with special and very worth while features. All know what fine results the new policy brought about in last weeks assembly when Dr. Willetts spoke the four L's. The assembly this week promises equal worth to those who are able to attend. The Board is urging a large attendance in anticipation of an address. "The Developing Spirit of International Goodwill" by Rev. Graham C. Hunter of the First Presbyterian church of Fullerton. Louane Leech, as Secretary of the Board, has charge of the assembly and has secured Rev. Hunter who attended the International Peace Conference at Stockholm Sweden this summer and is very well posted on the subject of Interational Goodwill is so predominant in our interest as individuals as well as college young people will double both interest and attendance. The response of the Student Body to the worth of these assemblies is going to make possible the obtainance of still more fine speakers and ultimately the increase of true college spirit.

Alma Mater Song Contest Under Way

An Alma Mater song to sing at our athletic contests, to sing at student conferences in order to show our college spirit, and to remain as a lasting impression on students who will attend the college in the future is now needed at Santa Ana J. C. Students, teachers, alumni, and friends are urged to enter the contest for the selection of a college song. Will you be one who will give up some time in order to bring about the establishment of a song representative of Santa Ana Junior College?

Already four persons have offered to submit a composition. Mr. Fisk, Maynard Ronin, Dorothy Mayhew, and Nellie May Chapman are the contestants. Miss Mansfield will help any person in selecting music for the song. Persons competing may either pick a well-established tune and write words to it, or may compose music for the song as Miss Chapman is doing. It is hoped that several more will enter the contest in order that the song selected will be representative of the best talent that Santa Ana Junior College possesses. If you wish o compete notify Allen Goddard. Compositions are requested to be turned in not later than April 30.

The Women's Org dance is scheduled for March 19. The location for the event will probably be the St. Ann's Inn. Sanford's Orchestra will provide the music.

At the meeting of the organization held last Wednesday in Mr. Nealley's room, rife discussion occurred on the method of inviting the men. The affair may be slated as the women admitted "shyness" in personally inviting the men. If slating is adopted, it will be the first time it has ever been tried in this college and whether it would be a success or not is an undecided and much debated question. Many believe the suggestion clever as an experiment.

NON FRATERNAL CLUB

There are Clubs and Clubs and clubs and more clubs — Spanish, Latin, and Press clubs and so on unto eternity. Clubs make up a large part of the college social life and each club has its place. A club justifies itself if it helps to advance the school spirit in any way. We all must admit that the Brotherhood of Bachelors have justified their existence and congratulate them on their success.

A new club has been formed, starting with seven members all of whom are interested in poetry, art and all work of literary value. This club has chosen for its name "La Boheme." It is to be seen whether or not this "La Boheme" will justify its existence. If the members and the new members who will join obtain a broader view of the beautiful, good and true that is to be found in art and good literature and help in some way to show the beauty of it all to the undergraduates who are not members they will have justified their being a hundred times.

We are grateful to the Bachelors for their aid in publishing this paper and are happy to say that now several members of "La Boheme" are writing, this club having taken charge of the weekly poems.

WOMEN DISCUSS J.C.
SOCIAL PROBLEM

Mrs. Northcross, at the meeting of the women's organization last Wednesday, March 3, graciously told the girls somewhat of the thoughts of the men toward them. She informed us that she knew only from what she heard at the "Y" meeting, the Monday previous. However, she did make it known to the organization that the boys do not date frequently because they believe that the girls expect so much from them.

"How foolish it is for us to turn a fellow down, simply because he has no car! What a splendid chance we miss for a pleasant stroll!"

The question was placed before the girls whether or not they would reject the vehicle known as the "flivver" for means of transportation. It was voiced unanimously by "yes, just so it isn't a strip-down."

The dean then proceeded to convey the attitude of some of the girls toward going with the fellows. "I believe in college romance but girls, don't make it an intention to capture a boy friend universally."

"The fortunates who secure a date with a co-ed feels strongly against those (less fortunate) who appear on the scene at the dances as tsags. The stags carry off the dances and girls, leaving the more courageous to sit the dance out. I suggest that you refuse to dance with such imposters."

The question of slating the J. C. boys with the J. C. girls was taken up, but no definite conclusion was made.

"We must mend our ways, so if the girls are willing, I will set out the little box again for the boys to fill with criticisms and we will have a definite discussion on "What J. C. Men Think of J. C. Women."

It was decided that such a discussion be held.

"Is your son college bred?"

"He ought to be—he had a long loaf and used plenty of dough."

"So Mary refused to marry you? Why didn't you tell her you had a rich uncle?"

"I did, and now Mary is my aunt."

Was it a wedding or a funeral which prompted a trio of girls to decorate Ed McHenry's car last Friday afternoon. Or maybe it was one of said girl's birthday. Anyhow Ed's car looked like it was coming home from the war.

Four people died of shock and three went mad on account of the extreme solitude which pervaded the library last Friday afternoon. They all must have been monitors.

CHAFF

In spite of scathing denunciations on the part of many studes, the stepsetters club continues to flourish.

Van R. (pronounced Rensler) was heard to utter many things in the hall the other noon. No, he is still sane, but his powers of observation have been seriously affected.

MORE CHAFF

Down with the stepsetters club

The only thing that disturbs the J. C. library at present is the plethora of sounds issuing forth from the meetings of the step-setters club.

The Bachelors can throw such a mean dance that the student body is going to join them in a big dance. Fine work. But would it not be a good thing if the bachelors would co-operate in making the official organ of the school ("News") a real success.

Last week the sport page was a blank. The fact that some of the head writers of the school contribute to the bachelors bulletin and entirely neglect the "News." What say on a little co-operation.

Dorris G. Meyers ran the half mile in 1:53 minutes. (Tee-hee) He was going down to Frances' house.

Even in its destitute condition, the sport page last week was probably as interesting as usual. But it does look more artistic to fill up the space.

Impressionst of a game called hockey—

A bunch of girls running excitedly in every direction,

A poor little innocent ball that everyone is trying to hit,

A whistle that nobody seems to know what it is for,

Much confusion over nothing.

Result— Two bruised elbows, Forty four cracked shins, ten skin-nek knees, five hundred black and blue spots.

LEGEND OF THE FORGETMENOT

By the margin of a river
Walked a maid and youth together.
Fair the picture that they made,
As upon the shore they strayed.
And had bound them with his claim.

Soon that lovely maiden spied
Growing by the river's side,
Just below the shelving bank,
Flowers of the softest tendrest blue
Looking o're the steep decline
"Oh, that thoes flowers were mine!"
Said the maid.

Her faithful knight
Plunged into the waters bright
Caught the flowers but soon to sink
At the rivers trecherous brink.
But he flung the flowers on shore
Calling from that fatal spot
To his love, "Forget me not."

Eversince these blossoms blue
Have been a sign of love so true.
At the midnight hour, that river,
Calls from that fatal spot
Where he said, "Forget me not."

LA BELLE, FRANCE

I never saw so Nice a maid
In all my tours as Nancy
Albi my side Vendee she strayed,
To Havre was my fancy.

We Metz somehow—the usual way— —
Toulouse, perhaps the manner,
But 'neath her Paris all that day
My pleasure was to scan her.

Her Lyon filled by Brest with pain,
She led me to my Raven,
Then took French leave. I went in Seine
Where lovers are not few in.

One: "Did Al flunk out?"
Two: "He probably passed out."

He saw her stepping from a car
and up to her he sped,
"May I help you to alight?"
"I do not smoke," she said.

Miss Lasby: "Mr. Van Rennsaeler, give a definition of perpetual mo- tion."

Van: "A Jew chasing a Scotchman for ten cents."

"Jack proposed to me in a moter car."

"Indeed."
Yes, and I accepted him in the hospital."

Mr. Glenn: "Use the words "cotten batten" in a sentence, Mr. Foust."

Emil: "The score is 6 to 2 in the ninth inning and Cotton batting for Johnson."

How did it happen that the Thrash- er, a beloved disciple of Miss May E. Murphy, broke into the sport sheet last week? "Stay in your own field," is a good motto.

FRENCH CLUB HOLDS ENJOYABLE MEET

At a recent meeting of the Junior College French Club Monday, March 1, the French language held sway. Miss Elaine Smith, president, pre- sided and proved the excellent com- mand she had of the language by using French altogether.

The first number on the program was a play in which Dorothy Cart- wright, Ruth Crawford, Kate Benton, and Marion Stanley took part. It was indeed a tragedy but the clever cos- tumes of the actors added a note of comedy.

Lois Winslow, Mary Griset, Ruth Stephenson and Mary E. Rutledge read French poems and short stories which were very interesting if not intelligible.

The club sang several songs in French, among them being the French national hymn, Le Marseil- laise, "Fiere Jacque," "Aui Clair de la Lune," and "Li Mere Michel" were enjoyed a great deal also.

Refreshments of iced punch and wafers were served and games con- cluded the meeting.

The purpose of the club is to im- prove the knowledge which the mem- bers have of French. For this reason Miss Watson desires that each mem- ber take some part in each meeting.

This will add to the interest and acti- vity of the club.

We have to hand it to the track team as a whole. Every single one of them. Next Saturday we are going to see what we are going to see. If we come out one top then, we may win the conference meet.

What's this that is being whispered around? A swimming team. Quite novel eh? Following close upon the introduction of chess it does not dumfound us.

Straight goods. A swimming team is right. All you mermen talk it up, and if you want to find out more, go to Coach Harris, the little Napoleon. Or is it Weismuller?

Negotiations are already under way for a meet with the co-ed's swimming team.

So far, it has always been interclass contests between the boys. Why not have an interclass volley ball game, or something else, between the girls?

Congratulations to the girls tennis team are in order. They did nobly last week. Tell them how good they are, men. They already know it, but they love to hear it told to them, especially by the "divine substance."

We are looking for the men's tennis team to get wheeling now. It is said that we have wonderful material. They had their picture taken too.

Who was that girl who had the black tie and belt on in the girls tennis picture?

Speaking of pictures, what about the football picture? It reminds one of a football team during the gold rush.

What about our baseball team? It's going to be a "beaner" from all indications. What, with the valuable Van Rensselaer, the redoubtable Lawrence Minge, et al., championship hopes are being fostered.

As to the lack of a competent twirler, why not persuade the versatile D. Gilbert Myers to rush to the aid of the team.

DONAS RAQUET SQUAD HUMBLE FULLERTON HIGH

The women's tennis squad of the school of the Don's invaded the territory of the Fullerton High School last Thursday and took the tournament to the tune of four matches to two.

The way in which the Donas showed their stuff makes the outlook very bright for the coming season. Tennis is the only women's sport to be played to a championship this year and the Donas seem to have a fine chance to take it.

Thelma "Pat" Patton upheld honors in the first singles match by winning from her opponent, Dorothy Hetebrink 9-7, 6-0. Pat seemed a little off form during the first set but in the second set she was complete master of the situation.

The second singles match was easily the feature of the afternoon. This match was a most spectacular affair and the contestants were so evenly matched that the battle lasted for two hours. Dorothy Bielefeldt upheld honors for the oil-drillers while Enid Twist was the dashing Dona participating. Miss Bielefeldt won the first set by a score of 6-3. Wiss Twist then twisted a mean racquet to win the second set 6-4. The third set was played with the handicap of darkness and Miss Bielefeldt emerged victor 7-5.

Eve McNeil, playing third singles, put up a splendid game but lost the match 4-6, 3-6.

Muriel Smith had an easy time disposing of her opponent 6-2, 6-2.

Ruth Davis and Elaine Smith playing fifth and sixth singles respectively. Both played flashy games, making two more wins for the Donas. Miss Davis defeated her opponent 6-3, 6-3. Elaine Smith won her match 6-3, 6-2.

Of course, Al Clayes, as usual, was the class of the sprinters. Rumor also has it that Clayes will not break down, at least not during the present track season.

INDOOR SPORTS CHESS

There will be a chess tournament which will be held within the next two weeks. All the names of those who wish to enter should be given to either M. Ronin or A. Ault. The entry lists will close at 3 o'clock Wednesday. Announcements of the pairings for the first clashes will be made the next day on the bulletin board. The meets are to be played as soon as possible and the three best players will represent the college in a contest with Fullerton at a later date.

PING PONG

F. Labrucherie and M. Ronin have laid claim to the Ping Pong doubles championship of Santa Ana Junior College. They have signified that they do not intend to follow the policy of Jack Dempsey but are ready and willing to meet all challengers as soon as meets can be arranged. The exponents of this dwarf tennis are intending to get up a tournament for the singles championship also.

To those to whom it may concern: Pretty good track meet Saturday, wasn't it?

We can thank the grammar schools for more than half of the support given the team.

Well, old man Vawter is still running some "mean" races. It has been whispered among the rabble that there are more yet.

Craig Lewis, the red-haired runt, looks better every day in the '440. He sure did step.

Some of these high hurdlers from our rival colleges ought to make good bowlers. They rarely leave one standing.

Capt. "Ev" was going good Saturday. After easily winning first in his favorite event, he was going to make an attempt at fourteen feet, but he did not fully trust his trusty pole. He didn't want to make Lee Barnes and Charles Hoff, his esteemed contemporaries, feel badly.

"Ptomaine" Weber, of football and basketball fame, was an interested spectator last Saturday. We are glad to have you back again Charles. We hope you'll be in suit soon.

"Do you know the Alaskan National Anthem?"

"Be it ever so humble there's no place like Nome."
